

Flying High into the 10th Annual Bill Martin Jr Symposium

featuring Steven Kellogg, Keynote Presenter

2014 Call for Proposals

May 2-3, 2014

Rayburn Student Center
Texas A & M University-Commerce
Dept. of Curriculum & Instruction

Please consider lending your expertise to the 10th Annual Bill Martin Jr Symposium by being a presenter for a forty-five minute break-out session. Topics appropriate for this conference range from sessions on children's and adolescent literature, pedagogy, classroom management, technology, math, science, social studies, reading, and writing to specialty areas (Special Education, English Language Learners, or Gifted & Talented). We encourage sessions targeted for specific grade levels such as EC-6, 4th-8th, or secondary. We welcome proposals that honor the legacy of Bill Martin Jr, which allows children to experience the wonder of language through reading books.

Proposals will be accepted from February 3rd through March 20th through our online proposal website: www.tamuc.edu/BillMartinJr Presenters will receive acceptance notifications by April 18th. All Presenters will be required to register at the reduced presenter rate of $30.

For questions or comments about proposals and presentations, please contact Tami Morton at Tami.Morton@tamuc.edu or 972-951-2258.

The Bill Martin Jr Memorial Symposium celebrates its Tenth Anniversary with the launch of an Outdoor Learning STEM Academy on Saturday, May 3, 2014. Watch for more exciting information. Stay up-to-date! Subscribe to our LISTSERVE www.tamuc.edu/BillMartinJr
