This Drug Endangered Children (DEC) Training is designed to provide intermediate to advanced courses to enhance understanding of DEC concepts, practical tools for collaboration, and more resources for professionals to continue to educate themselves on the issue. It will include the latest research and best practice strategies for drug endangered children efforts at the local level. This training will equip disciplines with information to motivate change in the community response to drug endangered children and react in a coordinated effort toward changing and saving the lives of children.

PRESENTERS:

Det. Timothy "Tim" Ahumada is a twenty-six year veteran Officer of the Phoenix Police Department. He has received over 120 hours of training in interviewing children and has conducted over 2,000 child forensic interviews. He has also completed 80 hours of kinesics interviewing techniques training and carries a certification in Clandestine Meth Lab Investigations. He is a former member of the US Marshall's Fugitive Task Force and developed a state wide Investigator's Protocol for investigating child abuse in drug environments.

Nicole Everett is a Licensed Professional Counselor and Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist. She oversees therapy services at the Hunt County Children's Advocacy Center as the Clinical Director. She graduated with her BA of Psychology from Texas A&M in 2005, and her Masters in Counseling from Dallas Baptist University in 2010. Nicole was a Milieu Therapist at Dallas Children's Hospital where she treated children with eating and behavior disorders. She has extensive training in Trauma Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy and in the Adverse Childhood Experience Study (ACE). She actively participates in a Learning Collaborative to become Nationally Certified Trauma Focused Therapist.

Dr. Lavelle Hendricks is a Licensed Chemical Dependency Counselor, Advanced Alcohol and Drug Counselor, and holds a license as a Texas Minor in Possession of Alcohol Instructor. He is currently an Associate Professor in the Psychology, Counseling, and Special Education Department at Texas A&M University-Commerce. He is recognized as a highly published author and field expert in the National Forum Journal of Counseling and Addiction. He also hold the position of Editor for the Journal of Bullying and Social Aggression Associate, the Journal of E-Learning Associate, and the Journal of Counseling and Addiction. Dr. Hendricks is a Licensed Chemical Dependency Councilor, a National Certified Anger Resolution Therapist, and a Certified Cognitive Facilitator.

Other presentations provided by The Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse, and the Texas Council on Family Violence.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND: Law Enforcement, CPS, Social Workers, Educators, Counselors, Advocates, Medical Professionals, and other first responders who have contact with Drug Endangered Children.
