

 NAMI Walks
National Alliance on Mental Illness

PRESENTS:

Dallas Mayor Mike Rawlings as the Honorary Chair

Saturday, May 10, 2014

9:00AM at The State Fair of Texas

Join Dallas Mayor Mike Rawlings and hundreds of your friends and neighbors for the 9th Annual Dallas NAMIWalks. Help erase the stigma of mental illness while raising funds for NAMI Dallas' educational programs, which are FREE to the public.

One in four people in Texas are affected by mental illness: family; friends; co-workers; service members; children - all of them deserve good mental health care and assistance for their families and friends.

Join a team, start your own team or just come out and have a good time at beautiful Fair Park, where the parking is FREE and the FUN is just beginning. Food, prizes, lots of dogs to pet and live music- what more could you ask for? How about Broadcasting Legend Scott Murray as the master of ceremonies!

Please call 214-335-8334 or email johnd@namidallas.org to see how you can form a team, make a donation or learn about how the WALK supports NAMI Dallas' educational programs. NAMI Dallas— Education * Support * Advocacy
