

Announcing the 2021 Graduate Student Virtual Research Symposium

April 9, 2021 | 8:30am – 2:00pm

Virtual

Registration Opens: January 25, 2021

Registration Deadline: March 5, 2021

The Federation of North Texas Area Universities is a consortium of three institutions in the North Texas area:

1. Texas Woman's University
2. Texas A&M University—Commerce
3. University of North Texas

The primary purpose of the Federation is to engage in institutional collaborations for excellence in selected graduate degree programs and fields of study, to facilitate graduate students' professional development and research opportunities, and to coordinate administrative services for the benefit of graduate students at the three institutions. The Federation has operated since 1968 when it was approved by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

If you have a graduate student currently participating in research under your direction, we ask you invite them to register for this virtual event.

Student Poster Presentations accepted from Master's and Doctoral students in two categories:

HUM: Humanities, Education, Social Sciences, and Business

STEM: Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math

CASH AWARDS in each category!
